Chairman of the Board of Trustees

Career profile:

Formally joined Barclays Bank in 1981 where I was based in Charlotte, North Carolina, for three years. I returned to the UK where my responsibilities included running the Far East section of the bank, based in London but travelling extensively. Three years later, I was appointed Group Personnel Director with responsibility for both the banking and investment operations, a position I held for a further three years before taking over the running of the UK bank and financial services. Subsequently, I became Vice-Chairman with responsibility for the Banking and Financial Services worldwide. I then retired and became a non-executive director of various companies.

Other community involvement:

Currently Chairman of the Friends of St Peter's Church.

Why did you become a St Nicholas Hospice Care Trustee?

Although I wanted to retire from all commercial activities to create time to pursue other interests, I wanted to give something back to the community. So when asked if I would consider becoming a Trustee of St Nicholas Hospice Care, I was absolutely delighted to get involved with such a wonderful operation which itself gives so much to the community – one of the best decisions of my life.
